

We're not just another e-hailing service — it's a student-first mobility platform tailored for campus life. Every feature, ride, and interaction is designed with the realities of student life in mind.

COMPANY PROFILE

QUICK. AFFORDABLE. STUDENT-FRIENDLY.

We are UniGo (Pty) Ltd, a first of its kind.

UniGo is South Africa's first student-only e-hailing platform, created to serve university communities with safer, smarter, and more affordable transportation. Unlike traditional ride-hailing services, UniGo is designed by students for students—connecting verified student drivers with fellow students to travel on and around campus and beyond.

WHAT WE'RE ABOUT

OUR INSPIRATION

The idea behind UniGo emerged from a real campus need: safer and more accessible transport for students. Frustrated by the sight of classmates walking long distances or missing classes due to a lack of transport, founder Tristan Hogins created UniGo to solve the problem from within the student community.

QUICK. AFFORDABLE. STUDENT-FRIENDLY.

UNIGO

MEET OUR CEO & FOUNDER

Tristan Hogins is a young entrepreneur and full-time university student with a sharp eye for innovation and a deep understanding of student life. As the founder of both UniGo (Pty) Ltd and Trizzo Enterprises, Tristan combines academic insight with real-world hustle—uniquely positioning him to identify and address the everyday challenges faced by students.

His journey began not in a boardroom, but on campus—watching fellow students walk long distances in unsafe conditions or miss out on opportunities due to lack of affordable, reliable transport. Instead of accepting the status quo, Tristan built a solution that speaks directly to students' needs.

Still immersed in the university experience, Tristan is constantly exposed to student pain points. This first-hand perspective fuels UniGo's ongoing innovation—whether it's designing safer ride features, adding mental health support rides, or launching student job opportunities within the app.

He is backed by a growing team of youth-driven thinkers, developers, and creative minds who share his belief: that students deserve more than just transportation—they deserve opportunity, safety, and ownership of the solutions they use daily.

A photograph of four diverse college students walking together on a campus. They are all laughing heartily. From left to right: a Black woman with braids wearing a blue and white plaid shirt, a Hispanic woman with long dark hair wearing a grey hoodie, a Hispanic man wearing a teal plaid shirt, and an Asian man wearing a grey hoodie and carrying books. They are all wearing backpacks. The background shows a modern building with large windows.

UniGo isn't just another e-hailing service — it's a student-first mobility platform tailored for campus life. Every feature, ride, and interaction is designed with the realities of student life in mind.

Unique Selling Point

Exclusively for Students

Access is limited to verified university students, ensuring safety, trust, and reliability.

Peer-to-Peer System

Students drive other students — creating a familiar, comfortable environment that mainstream services can't offer.

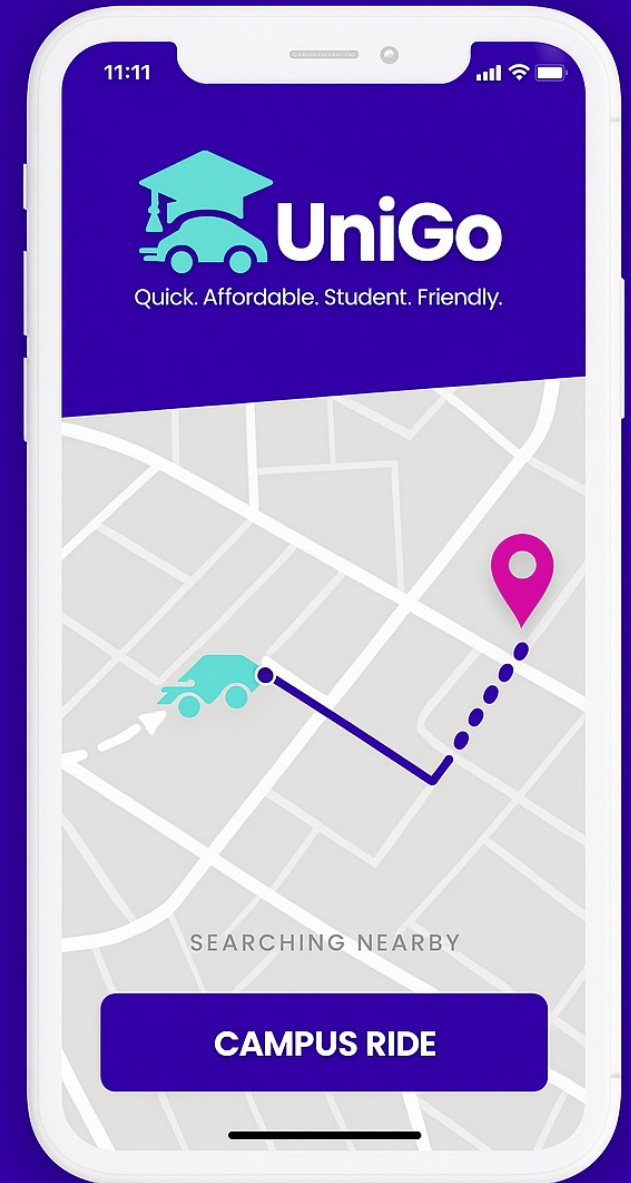

Empowering Student Hustle

Student drivers earn flexible income while staying in control of their time and studies.

Hyper-Localized Innovation

Built by someone living the student experience, UniGo constantly evolves to solve real campus problems.
